Georgia's Future Generation of Hunting Club

North America Outdoors is a new organization with a different approach to the conventional hunting club. As a member of the American Wildlife Association, North America Outdoors (NAO) brings a brand new meaning to "hunting club" here in Georgia. They offer members exclusive access to hundreds of different private properties.

The American Wildlife Association is the only National network of "hunting clubs" in the United States. Their oldest chapter and role model has been revolutionizing the hunting club concept since May 1989. Over the past 20 years they have provided the means for thousands of families to enjoy hunting, fishing, and camping in a hassle-free environment. Now, North America Outdoors is bringing these same great benefits to families of Georgia and throughout the Southeast!

We are all familiar with the typical hunting club structure. Most consist of a group of members who have difficulties properly managing the club. After all, it is not an easy task - especially when it's a hobby. There always seems to be questions that haunt these clubs:

How many members do we need so we can pay our lease?

How many acres can we afford per member?

Do we have a lease for this year, next year, etc.?

Does the landowner want more money; is his pricing fair?

Will the timber company clear-cut our property and if so, when?

Why doesn't everyone show up for the work weekends to do his or her fair share?

How do I share the club with my kids if other members aren't good role models? Alcohol? Drugs? Poor Ethics?

Who gets to hunt the better parts of the property? Seniority rules?

Why do I bump into other members going to, from or sitting in my stand?

No Guests. Why can I not hunt with my family and friends?

The list goes on.

How would you like to enjoy the outdoors without these constant distractions effecting your overall enjoyment with family, and friends? To quote from their website at www.huntfishgeorgia.com, "North America Outdoors manages the business aspect of the club while our members enjoy the best benefits of any Sportsman's club in Georgia. Our club members get incomparable value at a comparable price." NAO provides the solution to the many problem issues of a typical club and makes it easy for their members to concentrate on what's most important - quality time in the outdoors with family and friends.

Their reservation system is a major reason why they can offer such a valuable membership and why this concept is so different. This unique online reservation system provides detailed information for all properties. Each farm has viewable maps, directions, and scouting reports. There is plenty of detailed information on each property so members can scout locations from their computer. Reservations are fairly made on a first come, first served basis; this gives every member equal rights to all hunting opportunities. For those not computer savvy, reservations can also be made over the phone. Reserve the property when you want, for as long as you'd like, and bring guests if you choose. Best of all, the reservation system ensures that members and their guests will enjoy a peaceful, undisturbed outing. No more hunting pressure or fighting over the best spot.

In addition to their one of a kind reservation system, members also have access to hundreds of thousands of acres of AWA private property across America. NAO members can hunt, fish, and camp on any property leased by all other clubs in the American Wildlife Association (currently in 21 states). This means that members can hunt on private property for white-tailed deer in Illinois, Iowa, or Kansas - hunt upland birds in Nebraska or South Dakota - hunt ducks in Arkansas, Mississippi, or Louisiana - hunt elk in Colorado or Wyoming, etc. There are also excellent opportunities for fishing and camping not only in the Southeast, but across America.

NAO also offers a tremendous referral program for their members. If a member gets 10 other members to join the club, they receive FREE ANNUAL DUES FOR LIFE! There is also no time limit. So even if it takes you a few years to accumulate 10 referrals, this offer still stands. Hunt, fish, and camp for FREE the rest of your life on private property - how do you beat that?

This is truly a wonderful opportunity for Georgia sportsmen and their families. North America Outdoors offers a never-before alternative to our standard hunting club and public land deficiencies. For the same price, North America Outdoors gives you unmatched value to any club in Georgia. In trying to compare, simply ask yourself:

Why would I restrict myself to hunt only one property?

Why force myself to associate with undesirable club members?

Why limit the species of game to hunt and the states to hunt them in?

Where else can I hunt FREE for life by getting my buddies to also join?

North America Outdoors provides the future generation of hunting club in your own back yard - what an awesome new concept for sportsmen!
